

TIME & LABOR MANAGEMENT DATA COLLECTION FOR A REMOTE WORKFORCE

Telephony

Payroll Maxx offers a time and labor management application that enables its clients to accurately track the time and attendance of employees working remotely. Telephony, a method of data collection for time and labor management applications that allows users to clock in using a landline or mobile phone. A user can also be restricted to call from a specific phone number, or list of phone numbers. This feature is helpful to ensure that a user clocks in to a specific location at a specific time. Once a user clocks in using telephony, this data is transferred to the online application in real-time.

OPTIONAL FEATURES

- Job Costing
- Unlimited user capacity for telephony and personal handheld device entry
- Telephony and personal handheld devices require no additional hardware
- Restrict locations and specific dial-in numbers for telephony
- Complete detailed audit trail that includes caller ID